

THE PIONEER STORY

PIONEER ENGINEERING:

The initial stages of Pioneer Engineering began in 1992 in a modest facility in Mississauga. At that time, Pioneer's main focus was exporting a wide variety of lighting and electrical goods to overseas markets.

In an effort to meet market demands and client expectations, the company started to develop innovative designs of lighting fixtures, not yet locally available. Components were assembled & packed in Pioneer's facilities and products were distributed throughout Ontario and overseas.

As the demand for products increased, Pioneer acquired additional production equipment and personnel to become more self-sufficient and cost effective.

PIONEER LIGHTING:

1994 marked a new phase in the development of the company, as more products were developed and manufactured to meet the growing demand of the domestic market. The company expanded to larger facilities and Pioneer Lighting was established as a truly all-Canadian manufacturer and supplier of fluorescent lighting fixtures.

PIONEER TODAY

Pioneer now manufactures a complete line of LED and linear fluorescent fixtures, as well as a wide variety of custom and proprietary items in our 55,000 square foot facility in Toronto. Engineering, design, production, product development, and executive offices are all under one roof. This, combined with a substantial inventory of components and sub-assemblies makes Pioneer extremely efficient and flexible, allowing us to meet the strictest deadlines. Our size and agility enable us to compete with and outperform larger corporations when service, speed, and reliability are critical.

All of our products are assembled with national brand-name components, thus assuring consistent quality, performance, and reliable after sales service.

Pioneer services the commercial, industrial, retail and residential sectors across Canada and the U.S. through a network of wholesalers and agents. With the addition of new innovative and proprietary products, an updated user-friendly website and increased recognition with specifiers, we are positioned to expand our distribution throughout North America and offer our clients a comprehensive line of quality products with unrivalled service, at the best value.

Pioneer focuses on building long-term relationships with our customers and suppliers and we value and appreciate the confidence & trust with which they have entrusted us. We are committed to consistently meeting and exceeding our customers' expectations and remain dedicated to leading the way in value and good old-fashioned service.
